

ESRC Festival of Social Science Public lecture

Economic crisis in Central and Eastern Europe

November 5th, 2012, 1730-1900

Location: Yudowitz Seminar Room 1 (257),
Wolfson Medical School Building, University Avenue

The event will consist of two talks by leading specialists in the field:

Professor Phil Hanson (Chatham House), Why is the Russian economy so sensitive to events in Europe?

Dr Adam Swain (University of Nottingham), On the periphery of the European periphery or Eurasian re-consolidation? Ukraine and the global financial and economic crisis?

Professor Philip Hanson OBE is an Associate Fellow, Chatham House, and Emeritus Professor of the Political Economy of Russia and Eastern Europe, Centre for Russian and East European Studies, University of Birmingham. He has carried out research on the Soviet and post-Soviet economic systems and specialises in Russian macro-economic issues and policies, Russia's regional economic issues and Russia-EU economic relations.

Dr Adam Swain is an Associate Professor of Economic Geography at the University of Nottingham. He researches the contemporary Ukrainian economy and the history of academic geography.

The event is free and open to the general public. Please register your interest by email to Ms Ann Mulholland: ann.mulholland@glasgow.ac.uk.

Further information: Jon Oldfield (Jonathan.Oldfield@glasgow.ac.uk)